on February 13th 2019 from 10a.m. - 4p.m.

at Bayrische Börse, Karolinenpl. 6 in Munich, Germany

RobMoSys is a EU based project aiming to develop a European ecosystem for open and sustainable industry-grade software development.

The EU H2020 RobMoSys project (started in January 2017) aims to coordinate a multi-domain European robotics software ecosystem with strong involvement of the community via two Open Calls.

The second call will be open from February 2019-April 2019, with a broad variation of funding opportunities.

Who should attend?

- research institutions
- universities
- industry
- SMEs
- ... located in the EU

Why participate?

- Obtain funding for your project
- Get first-hand information on the RobMoSys project
- Pitch your ideas!
- Discuss them with the community
- Find suitable partners for your application
- Be informed about the application process

Places are limited and will be assigned on a first come, first served basis.
